

Easy to Operate

An alert receiver is installed in each designated space. The receiver is connected to a central power supply and an alarm control panel. When a call is transmitted by a person using the button transmitter, a buzzer sounds at the alarm panel and the light corresponding to the location flashes, indicating exactly where the person in need is.

Miniature Transmitter Button

- Works in all protected rooms, wards
- Small and discreet
- May not be activated by mistake
- Slips in a pocket, clips to your belt or to a piece of clothing
- Weight: One ounce
- Manual or automatic low battery indicator

Alert Receiver

- A light indicates a call has been placed
- May be wall-mounted or ceiling mounted
- Triggered by the control center
- Adjustable sensitivity
- May be housed in a standard electrical power box
- Outlet: C form contact

Personal Security Localization Solutions

When Reliability and Exact Location Matter Most

Hospitals

Youth Centers

Correctionnal Facilities

Nordicom provides personal security localization solutions to psychiatric wards and high security facilities to create safe environments for staff, patients and visitors.

Unlike traditional radio-based solutions which have overlapping zones that may be restricted to specific rooms, Nordicom's ultrasonic-based Securalert device is capable of identifying the exact room where a person is in distress with accuracy. Worn directly on an individual for easy access, Securalert can be discreetly hidden using a belt clip, worn on clothing or placed in a pocket.

For Psychiatric Wards and High Security Facilities

Many state and federal budgets have been cut for psychiatric care. Total admissions to wards don't reflect the number of homeless, children or inmates that suffer from mental illness. As a result, general hospitals and long-term care facilities are treating a large part of the mentally ill population. With fewer security personnel, an increase in attacks and often outdated monitoring systems, having personal protection has become a critical element in creating a safe work environment.

“Securalert gave us the peace of mind we needed for both personnel and patients. We are completely satisfied with it's performance.”
